

WINE STEWARD BO MOORE

Biography

Born on the Big Island of Hawaii and raised in Southern California, Bo Moore began his career in the hospitality industry at a young age working at restaurants throughout the Western US. Now, Moore directs an impressive and award winning wine program at Arnold Palmer's Restaurant in La Quinta, California.

Moore first developed a personal interest in wines after realizing his fascination in the wine making process. "Wines capture a sense of history, science, biology, farming and business all in one entity," says Moore. With an expertise in California wines, Moore has a keen palette that can determine all different varietals of wine, and has a natural affinity for pairing the appropriate wine with any culinary dish.

Under Moore's direction as Wine Steward, Arnold Palmer's restaurant has not only received popular acclaim for its exceptional and extensive wine list, but also received the coveted Award of Excellence from Wine Spectator magazine.
